POLICE IN EIRE PUT CURB ON IRA FUNDS

SEVERAL collection boxes have been seized by civic guards in a series of swoops on groups of collectors of monies for the Republican Prisoners' Dependents' Fund in counties Monaghan, Cavan and Leitrim during the past few days.

It is understood no effort was made to prevent the collection in Louth. Most recent seizures of funds were made in Co. Monaghan.

Civic guards in Castleblayney made their swoop during a house-to-house collection in the Muckno Street area of the town, and in Carrickmacra while a general public collection was being made.

A Co. Monaghan police spokesman today refused to comment on the matter.

His executor, David Lindsay, of Bocklyn, Waterloo, Kilinchy, Co. Down, retired leather merchant, died on March 24 last.

Thaw under way in lowland areas of Province

OVERNIGHT RAIN washed away most of the snow in Northern Ireland's lowland areas, and although it will remain fairly cold, the thaw is likely to continue.

Temperatures will remain a little above freezing and there will be rain or sleet in the hills.

The Automobile Association reported this morning: "Things are a lot better all over the Province."

Most of the main roads were fairly clear, a spokesman said. The only black spot was the Glenshane Pass, although clear at either end, had three inches of hard-packed snow on its higher stretches.

Many unclassified roads, particularly in hilly areas, throughout Ulster, are still reported impassable and are creating difficulties for farmers and milk collectors alike.

Four-hour delays

One milk driver, who operates in the Newry rural area, has been experiencing three to four hours' delay daily with his milk collection. In some cases farmers have had to use tractors to carry the milk cans to points where he can collect them.

In England, meanwhile, a big thaw started in the South and West Country and brought with it a fog hazard.

A fog warning was added to the snow and ice problems and caused some delay to early morning flights.

A R.E.A. spokesman at Newry said there had not been any cancellations, but some flights were held up for an hour or so before noon.

Although snow fairly rapid thaw was in progress to-day in North-East England, conditions are still bad in the North Country with dozens of roads blocked.

The spokesman said that overnight there had been fresh falls of snow in North Devon and Scotland.

No school bus

A regular school bus and snow machine is still very much with us comes from the Drogheda area, where a report that their drivers were unable to get to the Drogheda and Carnarvon areas of Co. Down this morning.

This is the second time during the current cold spell that these pupils have got an unofficial holiday.

Three buses from Drogheda and district, via Lillington, were badly delayed today because of the conditions of the roads and services were also affected in the Drogheda, Ballynahinch, Omagh, Dungannon, Newcastle and Newry areas, although delays were slight.

And now a school for chairmen

William C. McDowell, district president of the A.E.U., will conduct the class.

FATE OF SIBERIAN CHRISTIANS IN DOUBT

THE U.S. Embassy in Moscow said today that it had received no information about the fate of the 32 Siberian Christians who sought refuge in the Embassy.

The Siberians handed them over to Soviet authorities in a bus after the Americans handed them over.

"The Foreign Ministry," said an Embassy official today, "gave us a firm commitment. They said the Siberians would be advised about the handling of the case."

The Siberians are believed to be a total of 250 at the Embassy, awaiting return to Siberia.

The speaking and shouting Siberians spent four hours in the Embassy on point of departure for a firm commitment. They said they were being persecuted in Siberia. They asked the Americans to help them get out of the Soviet Union.

A spokesman said later that the Siberians are on their way back to Siberia.

REPORT ON PLANNING MAY BE OUT SOON

By our Political Correspondent, ROY LILLEY.

A STATEMENT on town and country planning, in which it is expected there will be an announcement of a decision to publish the Matthews report, is to be made by the Minister of Health and Local Government, Mr. William Morgan, soon after the Commons re-assembles on January 22.

While the statement is likely to deal primarily with the report, it may also give some indication of the Government's general intentions on planning legislation.

The recommendations and outline plan of Professor Sir Robert Matthews for the Belfast area were completed in November and are now being studied by the Ministry.

A decision on publication has still to be taken by the Cabinet, but it is known that Mr. Morgan wishes to make it available at the earliest opportunity.

The report runs to more than 1,000 paragraphs of which about 200 deal with specific recommendations. These embrace the industrial development, playing fields, preservation of agricultural land and road development.

As such is the special responsibility of the Minister of Health and Local Government, it may be longer before a decision is taken on the publication of the report to be completed.

35 killed in train crash

THIRTY-FIVE people were killed and 81 injured in a head on collision between two passenger trains at Innesbarr, near Gorkish, Uta Pradesh, India, to-day.

Three coaches were overturned, two were derailed and one caught fire.

Mr. Doak spent much of the early part of his life in the Army, and served in the Sudan, South Africa and later in the 1914-18 war.

His recipe for a happy and permanent marriage: "Don't worry about a thing. Just take life as it comes."

Mr. Doak is applying this principle to his own life at the moment. Hospital, though it is only the second time he has been there, is not a bad place, he finds. But he hopes to be out in about a week.

PAY RISE CLAIM

A claim for a two per cent pay rise has been lodged on behalf of more than 14,000 workers in the Dundee and district industry. It was announced today. The application will be considered by the Joint Wages Council, on January 16.

More jobs possible at sports factory

By our Industrial Correspondent

NEW JOBS MAY BE CREATED in one of Ulster's newest industries as the result of the closure of an associate company's factory in Scotland.

The factory which is the Dundee plant of Robert Forgan & Son, Ltd., the golf club firm established in 1919.

Forgan's are amalgamated with A. G. Spalding & Bros., Ltd., who have a £750,000 sports goods factory at Doagh, Monkstown.

By March more than 40 golf club makers, some of whom have been with Forgan's more than 40 years, will be paid off and in future all the firms' golf clubs will be manufactured in Spalding's new Northern Ireland factory.

A spokesman there said today that the production requirements would obviously have to be increased to absorb this new development and there was a possibility that this would create a fresh employment.

He added that he was not in a position to say how many new jobs might be created and any increase would be reasonably small, he said.

Mortgage rate cut

ONE of the smallest building societies in Britain today announced it had cut its rate of interest to borrowers from 4 1/2 per cent to 4 per cent as from January 1.

The Cleveland Benefit Building Society of Middleburgh, which is to keep its rate of interest for the time being at 4 1/2 per cent, has had its membership of 211 at the end of 1962. It has 17 branches and 85 borrowers.

There were about 25 people in the wing when the fire broke out, but in all 80 were brought downstairs as a precaution.

The manager of the club said that the two porters "acted magnificently. If it had not been for them no one could have possibly died, or at least have been injured."

Mr. Valentine said he and Mr. Thompson were both home to recover. They were affected by smoke and somewhat exhausted.
